The Spectator Notes

Cassli Newman is the cover girl this week... and the sketches are by Donald Teague, prominent Peninsula artist. All of Carmel has been commenting on the beautiful posters turned out for the event. A tremendous amount of talent and value has been donated by the member artists, many of them names that appear in top national publications and galleries. The Art Association is one organization hereabouts to which "decorations" aren't a problem.

The Ball is, of course, tomorrow night, complete with a pageant, among whose cast are the Flavins (Martin and daughter) and Ruth Warshawsky. Cassli Newman too. Incidentally, the Association is a bit bothered about two points. Single tickets are available... $3. Many thought that only $5 pair ducats were to be had. The other thing is that there will be plenty of tables for general admission, as well as box holders. Seems some people read about the boxes and figured those without boxes would just have to stand around. Not so.

Gladys Johnston, the Carmel realtess, is rumored to be contemplating a trip to Europe. Seems Previews, the big national Real Estate outfit, is scouting English manors, and Mrs. Johnston may be elected shopper! Tally ho!

Previews pops up again. The latest New Yorker has a full page ad over their sig for the George Hart home in Pebble Beach. 17 rooms and a heated beach. It's the house opposite the Ghost Tree. It sports imported travertine and innumerable marble pillars "imported from the slopes of Vesuvius." Since Vesuvius' slopes were, at last report, pure volcanic clinker, one wonders just where Vesuvius begins and those pillars end. But then, Vesuvius, like Previews, is obscured in a gentle pink cloud most of the time. The price, not listed in the New Yorker, is understood to be $350,000 hereabouts.

The Republican dinner at the Fairgrounds exposition building was something of a tour de force. The caterer brought all the necessary equipment with him from San Francisco. The various pieces, sinks, ovens, dishwashers, etc. were hooked into the water and sewer lines. Gas was taken off a pipe leading into an overhead heater. When it was all over, the equipment was packed up in crates and loaded aboard trucks for the return to home base. The operation is something like a circus unpacking and packing. (We should be able to work an elephant in there somewhere. Oh well.)

Admiral Nimitz at the Navy Postgraduate School opening last week looked rather serious. He didn't smile when the speakers made their traditional humorous remarks. He spent most of the time surveying the audience and watching little things that interested him. But when Secretary Kimball stepped to the mike, the Admiral was amused at last. About 20 photographers crowded around to snap pictures. It appeared that most were intent on snapping the back of another's neck. The Admiral broke out in a big grin and nudged Admiral Rodgers sitting next to him to notice the frantic lensmen.

Incidentally...

THASS A LOT OF BRASS!

CARMEL'S ELECTION SCENE WARMS UP CONSIDERABLY

Now Carmel's political pot begins to boil! Five are definitely in the race for the three seats. It promises to be a hotter-than-usual election year.

Mayor Allen Knight and Councilman Gene Ricketts are running for reelection. Francis Whitaker, Mrs. Geraldine Smith, and Reed Pollock are all circulating papers. Councilman Andy Martin, whose term also expires, has decided not to run.

The issues are marked. City sales tax repeal, fluoridation of the water, and the city employees' pension plan will all figure in the campaign.

So far none of the candidates have come out with a definite platform. However, both Knight and Ricketts have taken a strong stand in favor of the retention of the sales tax. All are agreed that the essential nature of Carmel must be kept as it is. They allow that progress is inevitable but that it can be properly guided by the council.

Two other city offices must be filled also, city clerk and city treasurer. Both Peter Mawdsley and Harry Hilbert, incumbents, are in the race. So far no opposition has developed for either position.

After the April 8 city election comes the school board election, May 16. Mrs. Martha Moller's term expires, and she has decided not to run for reelection. After serving on the board 10 years, Mrs. Moller stated, she feels "it's time for another generation to be represented."

SOCIAL CONFERENCE AT ALL SAINTS'

The American Friends Service Committee, a Quaker group interested in social and community work, will meet for its annual regional conference this Saturday in Carmel.

The Committee which will meet in All Saints' Episcopal Church, at 9th and Dolores, invites the public to attend its discussions.

Speakers lined up include Mr. and Mrs. Percy Baker, directors of the Neighborhood House in North Richmond, and Richard Jorgenson, Foreign Service secretary of the American Friends Service Committee. Topics will include universal military training and a successful rehabilitation program in a negro bay area slum. The chairman of the Monterey meeting will be Janet Barber, Sa-

ATHLETIC AID FUND

RAISED AT C.H.S.

A fund to aid athletes injured in any high school athletics has been making progress at Carmel High this week.

Block C, the boys athletic association, initiated a one-day series of fund raising activities. A noon dance on Monday, a faculty-student basketball game on Tuesday, a boys' baked cake sale on Wednesday, and a p and a Pay Assembly with movie on Thursday. They have, as well, voted to donate the proceeds of tonight's basketball game with Hollister to the cause.

GOLDEN BOUGH DISPLAY CASES DISCUSSED BY PLANNING COMMISSION

The Carmel Planning Commission has been "unofficially" aroused over the display cases going in the lobby of the Golden Bough Playhouse. The commission discussed the matter with Edward G. Kuster informally at its meeting this week.

Commissioners expressed themselves as opposed to the displays on the grounds that such exhibits are not an integral part of a theater. They pointed out that the theater zone does not include any other sort of commercial activity and that the displays would represent various commercial activities.

Kuster answered the objections by pointing out that theaters all over the world indulge in advertising--trailers on the screen, posters, program advertising as well as lobby displays. He also pointed out that the sale of popcorn, candy, peanuts, etc. is widely practiced, although not an integral part of any theater performance.

"We are not going to indulge in these practices," Kuster stated. "We are simply going to lease these cases for attractive displays." He said that the theater would attempt to get fine arts displays as well as examples of hand crafts of the Peninsula.

The commission made it clear that it felt Kuster would not allow displays in bad taste to be installed, such as shoes, hats, and canned goods. But, what about the future?

Floyd Adams, city building inspector, looked ahead and said, "If the Golden Bough so degenerates in the future that it will allow such displays, then it won't make any difference, for the rest of Carmel will have degenerated past the point of caring." He said he felt that the planning commission should place trust in individuals and attempt to make these individuals feel the responsibility so they can help the commission keep Carmel's assets.

As there was no specific question before the commission, no action was taken.

CARMEL TEACHER TENURE PROGRESS REPORT GIVEN

A very short agenda confronted the Carmel school board this week. Of primary interest was the progress report submitted by the committee setting up an academic tenure program to go into effect next year in the system.

The committee has drafted a tentative statement of policy regarding personnel procedures and tenure. This statement sets out standards which teachers must meet to become part of the Carmel schools.

The board also got a clear picture of how the district is growing when Superintendent Stuart Mitchell reported that the Pebble Beach bus run now is at the 30 student capacity. Either a station wagon will have to be added or a larger bus bought soon. Two years ago, when the run started, there were 12 students on the bus.

And teachers now get 30 minutes free time for lunch under the new state law, Mitchell reported.

VETERANS GET CHANCE TO RENEW LIFE INSURANCE

Veterans who try to renew their term-plan National Service Life Insurance but are turned down because of an incomplete application may have another chance to renew--even if their policy has expired, Claude S. Estill, Veterans' Service Officer, declared today.

He said the Veterans Administration has decided to reconsider rejected renewal requests from former NSLI term policy holders who didn't have time to correct and resubmit their original requests before their term policies ran out.

Mr. Estill listed these two types of rejected applications which the VA is now reconsidering:

(1) The policyholder had paid his final premium on time, and also had sent in a renewal premium based on a rate at least as great as his expiring premium rate--but his application was incomplete.

(2) The policyholder sent in a renewal premium, but neglected to pay the final premium on his expiring term policy.

National Service Life Insurance forms and advice on NSLI insurance matters are available without charge to servicemen, veterans and their dependents at 559 Pacific Street, Monterey.

JACK KRAMER AND DON BUDGE HERE SUNDAY...

JACK KRAMER (left) and DON BUDGE, two champions of the "big game," will play at the Pebble Beach Tennis Courts on Sunday at 2 p.m. Kramer is a familiar to Peninsula sport enthusiasts and has appeared here with the Bobby Rigg's tour. Budge too has appeared previously and has, in the opinion of Jack Gardiner, Pebble Beach pro, the "greatest backhand of all time." --Julian Graham photo.

SPRING FESTIVAL DRAMA SCHEDULED

The formal announcement of the schedule for the Monterey Peninsula Spring drama festival has been announced and consists of six little theaters giving approximately a play apiece. Applications to make an appearance were received in force, following the announcement of plans for a West Coast festival, and the committee has winnowed it down to six casts giving programs ranging from Sophocles to Jean Paul Sartre. The festival committee has made an obvious effort to provide a saleable variety of both plays and players. Children's plays, lectures, seminars, and costume demonstrations are lined up too for the week of April 21 thru 27.

Coming under the mantle of the American National Theatre Academy and the California and Nevada Theatre Council will be the Hillbarn Theatre the San Jose State College drama group, the Barn Theatre of Porterville, The Interplayers, the Reno Little Theatre, and our local Wharf Theatre.

An ambitious group of plays has been chosen, presumably fortes of the various theatres involved. "Doctor in Spite of Himself" by Moliere, "Oedipus Rex" by Sophocles, "Years Ago" by Ruth Gordon, "Yes Is For a Very Young Man" by Gertrude Stein, "Macbeth," and the locally successful "Respectful Prostitute" by Sartre are the fare.

Since the range is from ancient tragedy thru modern comedy, it looks sure-fire. Critics' forums, costume displays, demonstrations, and other work-shop activities will supplement the evening and afternoon performances.

TWO GREAT TENNIS STARS MEET AT PEBBLE BEACH COURTS THIS SUNDAY

A "World's Championship Tennis Match" is scheduled for the Pebble Beach Tennis Courts Sunday at 2 p.m., featuring Don Budge, famous ex-world champion, and Jack Kramer, world professional singles champion.

Don Budge, one of the all-time tennis "greats," is the only player to win an international tennis "grand slam" (world's four major tournaments, American, British, French, and Australian, in one year). Budge is the only player ever to win singles, doubles, and mixed doubles in Great Britain and the U.S.A. the same year. He turned professional in 1939 winning the world's professional championship from Ellsworth Vines.

Jack Kramer won the National Interscholastic singles in 1938, a member of the Davis Cup team at eighteen, and major figure in American tennis for 12 years. He won the U.S. Singles championship in 1946 and 1947, and spearheaded U.S. Davis Cup wins. He turned professional in 1948 and became world's professional champion.

Admission to the match will be $2 plus tax. Telephone 7-6055 for additional information.

GRAND ARTS BALL TOMORROW

Del Monte Lodge will open at 10 p.m. tomorrow night for the Artists' Ball, the second costume ball sponsored by the Carmel Art Association. With a host of prominent artists and socialites, businessmen and public figures devoting time and talent to it, this year's ball promises to be a remarkably special event.

Based on the theme "One Arabian Night," the Art Association has, this year, chosen a wider base for its pageant, one which they felt would lend itself to costumes and decorations well and more easily than last year's Pagan Hawaiian theme.

Headed by Pat Cunningham, the committees in charge of the event are too numerous to list, other than to say that they include the most prominent people of the Peninsula in drama, art and social affairs.

Music for the evening will be supplied by Pat Coleman and a 14 piece contingent from the Monterey County Symphony.

A pageant entitled "Schere-zade" will be presented during the evening directed by Charles Thomas and including in its cast Martin Flavin, the noted Peninsula author.

A costume clinic has been set up across from the Art Gallery on Dolores street, where Mrs. Leona Doolittle will supply help and information on costumes for the ball.

Murals and decorations are now completed for the ballroom. Patricia Cunningham has done seven large murals and Harold Lanaker, assisted by a number of artists, has completed a group of animals and birds, while Chloe Wilson has created special effects and intricate jewelry for the pageant.

Tickets, at a cost of $5 per couple, are obtainable at the Art Association Gallery, the Carmel Work Center, Carmel Valley Art Gallery, Pebble Beach Gallery, or Del Monte Lodge. The grand march will be at 11 p.m., and will be followed by the pageant.

GUESTS VISITED WILSONS

Mrs. James Perkins, the wife of Paramount Pictures' head man in London, was the guest of the Rod Wilsons of Carmel last weekend. Also a guest of the Wilsons was Miss Philbert of the San Francisco area.

CHILDREN'S PLAY TUESDAY

"The Three Bears with Goldilocks," a colorful production of the children's classic, will be given at the Carmel Theatre at 4 p.m. on Tuesday.

A musical stage show, starring Nell Shawcross as Goldilocks, the play will feature singing and dancing especially designed for the young set. Animal costumes for "Chubby," the baby bear, and a cat named "Kinky" promise to delight children.

Tickets for this Penthouse Production are 50 cents for children and 80 cents for adults. They may be purchased at the box office.

JADES DISPLAY AND LECTURE TUESDAY

"Jades of California" will be discussed in an illustrated lecture this Tuesday at Sunset Auditorium. Dr. Charles W. Chesterman, of the California Department of Natural Resources, will discuss the mineral, with reference to Willow Creek and San Benito outcroppings.

A foyer display of jades and minerals will be displayed by Dr. Allen Mitchell of Pacific Grove. His collection includes specimens from the entire nation, among it polished and natural jades. The auditorium will open at 7:30 to allow time for an inspection of these and Dr. Mitchell will be present to answer questions about his collection.

Dr. Chesterman will speak at 8 p.m. in this first of the Carmel Adult School's Illustrated Science lectures.

CHORAL CLASS REOPENS

Jimmy Griffin, popular Advanced Choral instructor at Monterey Adult School, has returned from the East and will reopen the choral class on Tuesday, Feb. 26. The class meets at 7:30 p.m. in room M-1, Monterey Peninsula College, and is open to those with some musical experience.

Students may register with the instructor and there is no charge for instruction.

CORRESPONDENT SPEAKS HERE

"The man-on-the-street in the Near East fully expects Russia to move into the Arab territory," declared Paul W. Travis, correspondent and author, who will address the Monterey Evening Forum next Monday, Feb. 25, at 8 p.m.

Recently returning from a three months material gathering and camera toting tour of Israel, Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan, Syria, Lebanon, and other Near East countries, Travis will show his beautiful color pictures at the USO on Webster street at El Estero, Monterey. The public is invited and there is no admission charge. A question period will follow the lecture.

"After traveling in the Orient, Pacific area, and almost all parts of the world, I believe the Near East is the area that will see Russia's next move. It is the most important part of the globe today," continued Travis, "yet it is one of the least known to the average American. The Arabs dislike us for several reasons, and I will try to point these out during the discussion." Travis talked for an hour and a half with King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan, who before his assassination was considered the leading statesman of the Arab world. "That interview gave me more information than any I've ever had," went on Travis. "I'll tell about it and show my pictures taken of Abdullah."

BLOODMOBILE RETURNS PENINSULA NEXT WEEK

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be here again Thursday. The need for blood in Korea is great. People who take a little time out of their day Thursday will save the life of a wounded soldier on the battlefield within a few days.

The blood bank, set up in the USO Building on El Estero in Monterey, will be open from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Appointments can be made by telephoning 7-6921.

The Monterey County Medical Society and the Red Cross jointly sponsor the blood bank. Those planning to give blood are asked to drink only black coffee or fruit juice for four hours before donation. Food is provided afterwards.

VALLEY VALENTINE FOLK DANCING...

NARY A BRAVE HEART WAS ASLEEP IN THE DEEP at the Valentine Party in Carmel Valley. The decorated boards of the old Farm Center barn creaked with happy sounds of music and dancing last Friday night when a capacity crowd filled the building. Over one hundred dancers and visitors were guests of Los Rancheros, a folkdance group of Carmel Valley who meet each Friday night to learn new dances from the Adult Education teachers, Mr. and Mrs. Ove Brandholt. Classes are open to the public, and are followed by additional dancing...music and refreshments supplied by the club members.

Colorful red and white streamers...balloons with prizes for the lucky dancers, lots of delicious homemade cakes and cookies as well as punch or coffee were treats offered those who attended. There was only one small drawback...so popular are the Friday sessions, Farm Center will soon be needing

Jiggs Gets Four "Hot-Foots"

Cappy Miller's bought himself a new car. We won't be seeing his old jalopy bouncing over the back roads any more. I'm going to miss it, too.

Many a morning Cappy and I drove off in that rattletrap for a day's hunting or fishing. We'd pile rods or guns in back, and prop open the trunk compartment—so Jiggs, Cappy's pointer, could jump in and go along.

They say when Cappy brought the new car home he opened up the hood to show off the engine—and poor old Jiggs hopped right in! Figured it was the trunk. He hopped right out in a hurry, too. That cylinder head was mighty hot.

From where I sit, old habits are hard to shake, once they get a hold. Like, for instance, too many people are still in the habit of trying to run their neighbors' lives—telling them how to act, what to wear, whether or not to enjoy a refreshing glass of beer. I say that kind of thinking's out-moded...ought to be turned in for a new model!

DEREK RAYNE TO JUDGE KANSAS CITY DOG SHOW

Derek Rayne is off this weekend to judge in the big Kansas City show. He is the only Californian among the 12 judges for the contest, which is one of the top ten in the nation.

Rayne will judge sporting breeds and the terrier group. He will also judge the special collie show, part of the large Heart of America Kennel Club show. Rayne says he expects there will be more than 100 collies entered in this event.

It will be a flying visit. Rayne leaves San Francisco tonight, judges Sunday, leaves Sunday, and plans to be back in Carmel Monday morning.

TICKETS FOR HERRMANN LUNCHEON

Arne Halle, president of the Carmel Business Association, has limited supply of tickets for the welcoming luncheon to be given Admiral Hermann of the Navy School, on March 12. The tickets are $1.75 and may be bought, as long as they last, from Halle at the Bank of Carmel. They will be on sale until March 3, and any member of the Business Association is eligible to purchase them.

DO YOU KNOW that it depends largely upon how your laundry does its job whether your sheets retain their tensile strength and whiteness, and whether your shirts fray at the collars or cuffs?

IT COSTS MONEY and requires thorough training to do the proper job in the laundry business. Incidentally, it requires the greatest integrity because it is a business in which it is possible to cut corners.

THE DEL MONTE LAUNDRY is a member of the American Institute of Laundering, where we send our operatives for training, and we constantly use them for tests and advice.

THE PROOF of proper laundering is not only looks, but what happens to the articles that are laundered.

SMALL PENINSULITES celebrated big events recently... At left, Lou Ann Bowersox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rocky Bowersox of Rocky Point Lodge, hosted a party for a group of her Douglas School classmates. A spanking ten years old, Lou Ann's guests included Patsy Pell, Cynthia Marks, Clive Martin, Colene Campbell, Sam Morse III, Patsy Field, Westy Fletcher, Candace Brown, Miranda Drake, Nacio Brown, Cathie Dumont, Randy Spalding, Gwendy Gulberson, Peter Fletcher, and Dick Perkins. Also guests at the party were Mrs. Grace Douglas and Major Jack Cowan of the Douglas School. -- Art McEwen photo.

It looks like a "POWER YEAR"

New Horsepower—new Brake Power—and new Power Steering blossom on Buick's ROADMASTER for 1952

MAYBE you've heard—horsepower has hit a new high on the ROADMASTER.

Brake power has done the same.

But today, we'd like to concentrate on the third member of the power trio—Buick's own version of Power Steering, available on ROADMASTERS at a moderate extra cost.

What is this Power Steering like? It's something like a helping hand, something like a "hydraulic slave"—that relieves you of all steering strain, but lets you keep command.

What we mean is this:

Power Steering is handled by a special hydraulic unit—and engineers can design this unit to take over any amount of steering effort—even to a point where the wheel seems to float in your hand.

But in that case, you'd surrender all control to that hydraulic unit—get no steering "feel" from the wheel.

Now suppose you're telling two agile tons of automobile what to do in traffic. We think you'd like to have it know that you're in command.

And—out on the straightaway—we believe that a part of the joy you get from owning a Buick is the sensation of having something alive and eagerly willing beneath your hands.

So we're glad to announce that Buick engineers didn't spoil this thrill. They've kept the fun of driving, and simply eased the effort.

When you're rolling along smooth and straight, it takes almost no effort to keep any Buick on course. It almost steers itself, as every Buick owner knows.

But—when you want to get away from a curb —back into a parking spot—make a turn—Buick's Power Steering comes into action, saves four-fifths of the effort required with ordinary steering. Power Steering does the extra work.

And—in case you wonder what happens if Power Steering gets out of kilter, the answer is nothing. Your Buick steers just as it always has.

That's why we've been saying, "This is Power Steering as it ought to be."

Come in. Try it out. We think you'll agree.

CLOTHING DRIVE PLANNED IN ALL CARMEL SCHOOLS

In the Carmel school system, a week from Monday will start a clothing collection drive to aid needy children all over the world--including the U.S. The collection is being made by the Save the Children Federation.

This group seeks to clothe poor children in this country who are unable to attend school because of lack of shoes and clothes. Some of the articles collected will be distributed in Monterey County. But the group also sends bundles overseas to the children who are in need in Korea, Austria, France, Germany, Greece, Finland, and Italy.

Any outgrown coats, dresses, sweaters, pajamas, pants, shirts, socks, and good shoes are especially wanted. Any adult and baby clothes are also desired by the organization. This sort of aid to impoverished families abroad is a very effective and personal evidence of American goodwill and concern with the rest of the world.

The drive will be March 3 to 14 in Carmel High, Sunset, and Woods Schools.

A.A.U.W. DISCUSSION GROUPS TO MEET

Two interesting discussion groups are planned for next week by the American Association of University Women. On Monday, Feb. 25, the Social Studies Group will meet at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. R. A. Fisichella, 798 Pacific street, Monterey. The topic for discussion will be "Problem of Alcohol Among Teen-Agers."

The Play-Reading and Drama Group will meet on Tuesday, Feb. 26, at the home of Mrs. Betty Fowleston, 981 David avenue, New Monterey, at 8 p.m. Guest speakers on this occasion will be Tom Brock and Robert Carson, production directors of the Wharf Theatre. They will discuss the activities of A.N.T.A. and further plans for the drama festival in April. Both Brock and Carson are interested in starting a children's theater in this area and they will also tell their views on this.

$100 REPUBLICAN DINNER...

100 DOLLAR REPUBLICAN DINNER: The menu, a subject of much speculation, turned out to be Roast Beef, at last week's $100 a plate Republican dinner. Held in the Monterey County Fair administration building, the crowd of over 400 party supporters heard speeches by Sen. Richard Nixon, Kathleen Norris, and George Murphy. A keynote of responsibility was struck by Nixon, and marked the proceedings that were singularly free of the political shibboleths that usually mark partisan meetings.

What Is The IDEAL AMERICAN?

We think the Ideal American is one who best exemplifies the traits of those outstanding great men: Washington, Lincoln and Edison. A man with the firm and resolute courage of George Washington... the kindness and idealism of Honest Abe... the resourcefulness and independence of the Man Who Invented Everything. We think these traits are a mark to shoot at; a goal for every American who believes in himself and his country.

PEBBLE BEACH NOTES

Colonel and Mrs. Allen Griffin have returned to their Pebble Beach home following an absence of 16 months while Colonel Griffin was prominent in U.S. government service work in the Far East.

Recent visitors at Del Monte Lodge include Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hill Vincent of Burlingame, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hewitt, San Mateo, Mr. Curtiss Hayden and Mr. Wakefield Baker, San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Oddie, San Francisco, and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Dill, Woodside.

Dick Leutzinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Leutzinger of Pebble Beach, entertained at dinner before the Tween-Age dance held at the Beach Club Saturday night (Feb. 16). Among his guests were Jody Silverthorne, Joan Moore, Barbara Mitchell, Susan Castagna, Roger Newell, Donald daRosa, Ted Childers, Chuck Solomon.

Among those who attended the Beach Club party were John Myenberg, Don Smith, Hampton Stewart, John Young, Charles Dawson, Carol Spaulding, Nancy Riggsby.

The Arts Ball tomorrow and the Kramer-Budge Tennis Tournament on Sunday add up to a lively Washington's Birthday weekend at Pebble Beach.

Committee members for the tennis event include Mrs. Edison A. Holt, Mrs. Richard Osborne, Miss Janet Folsom, Mr. Gallatin Powers, and Mr. John B. Geisen.

With the official opening of the U.S. Postgraduate School at Del Monte on Saturday, a number of Monterey Peninsula residents honored visiting Navy officials over the weekend.

Rear Admiral and Mrs. E. E. Herrmann (he is Commandant of the school) honored visiting Navy officials and civic leaders at a luncheon Saturday following the ceremonies.

Samuel F. B. Morse hosted a cocktail party Saturday night in his Pebble Beach home for the visitors.

carmel library notes

"Something for everyone," could well be the library's motto this week. A wide assortment of new fiction went into circulation last Monday with perhaps the largest audience awaiting Daphne duMaurier's "My Cousin Rachel." This Book of the Month selection is a suspense novel on the order of Miss duMaurier's "Rebecca."

Two new novels deal with racial themes: "Mittee" by Daphne Rooke is set in Africa and tells of two women, one white and one Negro, and their love for the same man. Lonnie Coleman's "Clara," deals with much the same situation in an Alabama setting.

Monterey author, Anton Myrer, has a new novel, "Evil Under the Sun," telling of an art colony and the mores of its uninhibited residents.

"The Lady and the Painter" by Countess Eleanor Palfy is a fictionalized account of the relationship between John Sargent and Mrs. Jack Gardner.

Two frequent New Yorker contributors have new collections of short stories: John Collier's "Fancies and Good-nights" is a collection of weird and fantastic tales by a master of this genre. "In the Absence of Angels," by Hortense Calisher, includes several of the "mood" stories at which this author excels.

France and England today are the settings for two new novels, the former being the background for "The Forests of the Night" by Jean-Louis Curtis and the latter for "A Season in England," by P. H. Newby.

Other new fiction includes "Sybil" by Louis Auchincloss, "The Provincials," by John Cornish, "The Proper Bohemians" by Edith Templeton, and "Road to the Sun" by Marjory

Stoneman Douglas.

There are three new mystery novels and two science-fiction additions, "The Puppet Masters" by Robert A. Heinlein, and "World of Wonder," a collection of tales by such authors as Rudyard Kipling, Fredric Brown, O. Henry, Franz Kafka, and many others.

Two books of informal essays are included in the new non-fiction this week. "Under Whatever Sky" by Irwin Edman is a collection of this distinguished philosopher's reflections on a diversity of subjects from "Spiritual Snobs" to "Wars and How to Live Through Them." Charles Morgan, the author of the best-selling novel "The Fountain," has confined himself to the subject of freedom of thought in his collection of essays "Liberties of the Mind."

In "The United States and Turkey and Iran," two experts with extensive first-hand knowledge of the two foreign countries involved, impart their findings and advice relative to these two critical areas bordering the Soviet Union. The authors are Lewis V. Thomas, who was Professor of English at Istanbul University and is currently Asst. Professor of Turkish Language and History at Princeton University, and Richard N. Frye, who lived in Iran as a member of O.S.S. and is now Assistant Professor of Middle Eastern Studies at Harvard.

Those who find only redundancy in "A rose is a rose is a rose" are commended to "Gertrude Stein, a Biography of her Work," by Donald Sutherland, who is Associate Professor of Classics at the University of Colorado. Dr. Sutherland undertakes to trace her progress as a writer and to explain just what she was attempting at each stage of her literary development.

Personal adventure is the basis for two other non-fiction additions: "Guaracha Trail" by Dr. George Parker tells of his discovery of a fabulous silver mine in the bandit country of Northern Mexico and the dangers and excitement attendant upon working the mine. Marguerite Wallace Kennedy in "My Home on the Range" tells of her life on an Arizona cattle ranch in a Betty MacDonald-type narrative.

A raft of books whose aim seems to be "every man his own analyst" is augmented by "Understanding Fear in Ourselves and Others" by Bonaro W. Overstreet. Mrs. Overstreet attempts to equip the reader, in one volume, to recognize emotional insecurity, its roots and its results, and to cope with it effectively at both personal and national levels.

Jerome S. Meyer, who may the Lord have mercy on his soul--was responsible for the first radio quiz show, has compiled "The Book of Amazing Facts," a compendium of knowledge about many and varied subjects, with particular emphasis on extremes, such as the biggest, smallest, oldest, widest, etc. This may be a work of expiation on his part and an attempt to produce a radio contestant who, in return for his refrigerator, is able to give both the first and last names of our first President.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR LUCY ELSTOB

Miss Connie Nielsen, daughter of the Walter Nielsens, was the hostess at a surprise party for Lucy Elstob, daughter of the Frederick Elstobs, last Saturday, in celebration of her fourteenth birthday. Co-hostesses for the event, which was attended by 24 teen-agers, were Miss Bonnie Lynn Redhead and Miss Nancy Vaughn.

WOMAN'S CLUB PLANS RUMMAGE SALE

According to co-chairmen Mrs. James Burgess and Mrs. L. C. Miller of Carmel, the pre-Easter Spring Rummage Sale to be given by the Carmel Woman's Club on March 6 will out-class any sale yet held.

Peninsula residents have dusted off their "Don't needs." These have been priced and arranged for quick sale. Crowds will find their "Do needs" at this sale at bargain prices. There will be racks of men's, women's and children's clothing including good shoes, purses, hats, gloves, and babies' layettes. Tables of jewelry, books, pictures, and knick-knacks will attract smart buyers.

For spring gardening there will be plants and cuttings from local gardens. Household goods and antiques will fill half the large hall.

There will be a Bazaar of new goods donated by merchants of Carmel. Prizes of baskets of groceries will be given away during the day. There will also be a ham and a permanent wave to be won.

This Spring rummage sale is looked forward to by people from neighboring communities. Here is a chance to help your budget, outfit for Easter, add to your garden, and have a day of fun and interest.

Circle the date on your calendar--March 6 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

RED CROSS DRIVE APPOINTMENTS

Attorney Thomas K. Perry, chairman of the Carmel Red Cross fund raising campaign for 1952, which is to be launched on March 1, announces the appointment of Lloyd Weer, Carmel manager of the P.G. & E., as chairman for the Carmel residential district drive. His assistant will be Mrs. Edwin Tucker.

Heading the business district division of the campaign will be Benjamin Franklin Sowell, Jr. Mrs. J. Hampton Hoge will be captain for the Pebble Beach area. Announcement of other district chairmen is to be made soon.

How to treat your telephone

The best way to spruce up your telephone is to polish it with a soft, dry cloth... never with water or any other liquid. You'll find that it'll always be ready to serve you better, too, if you keep these simple pointers in mind: Avoid "gadget" attachments... keep cords free of doorways where they may be pinched... and always keep water away from wires and fittings.

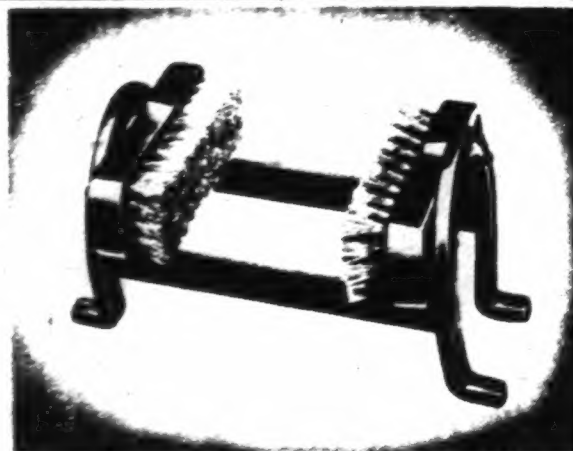

its precision-built... and it can develop ailments if it's dropped.

So make sure the stand your telephone sits on is solid...

and located in a place where the instrument won't be accidentally knocked off onto the floor.

..LocalLights..

Qualities that make an outstanding Naval war commander and those that go to make a school administrator don't seem compatible. But Rear Admiral Ernest E. Herrmann has been the former and now is the latter.

Adm. Herrmann was awarded the Legion of Merit (he has three) for his commanding of the heavy cruiser USS Boston during action against the Japanese from June, 1944, to March, 1945. A large part of this action centered around the Marianas campaign, the Boston being active in the occupation of Saipan and Guam in that group. But the cruiser also participated in raids--Truk, Okinawa, Formosa, Hong Kong and Tokyo.

In June, 1950, Adm. Herrmann was appointed Superintendent of the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School at Annapolis. Since his appointment, the Admiral has spent most of his time planning the move to Monterey from the East Coast. But he also has had to keep the very complicated school for advanced study operating well. This he relishes.

"We are here to develop the brainpower necessary to keep abreast of the strides in science," he said. If scientific and technological progress is to continue, those who use the improvements must understand them completely and help direct the developments. It is a sort of plowing back into the field. That's what this school is about."

No newcomer to education, Adm. Herrmann served three tours of duty at the Naval Academy. He was on the staff of the department of Ordnance and Gunnery, and in 1936 was made senior instructor in that department. While serving he wrote two text books, one on ballistics and the other on fire control. The ballistics text is still being used at the Academy.

And he knew whereof he spoke. When he was assistant gunnery officer aboard the USS West Virginia, the ship won the Gunnery Trophy and Battle Efficiency Pennant in 1932, '33, and '34.

When the war broke out in 1941, Adm. Herrmann was director of the planning and progress division of the Navy's Bureau of Ordnance in Washington. He served there until June, 1944, when he assumed command of the Boston. While on duty in the capital, the Admiral urged the adoption of revolutionary anti-aircraft gun sights. These sights proved to be outstanding in battle, and he was awarded one of his Legions of Merit for this work.

But there came a time when it was necessary for Adm. Herrmann to have another tour of sea duty to keep his "hand in." He was a little apprehensive. "There had been so many changes and developments that I wasn't sure about commanding the Boston."

"But it was all so simple compared with Washington. Commanding a ship was a pleasure. A ship and its men are something tangible, and certain objectives must be attained."

"At the bureau we were constantly pawing out into the unknown, searching for the solution to problems. At sea there are definite objectives and the means to carry them out are immediately available."

Now Adm. Herrmann is engrossed in an entirely different problem--education--and to it he is devoting all his energy and thoughts. He is planning to write a book on the subject, pointing out the necessity of education in an advanced technological world.

"The country is ready to spend huge sums of money for research, development and improvement of science," he said. "Yet everyone seems to be myopic when it comes to failing to see that it is necessary to step up education to keep abreast of science."

Admiral Herrmann's recreation consists of walking, playing golf and learning what is going on in the education world. He spends his spare time reading about new techniques in teaching in an attempt to keep his school "up to the mark."

As for golf, the Admiral hasn't had time to sample the local courses as yet. "I play golf with an emphasis on the word 'play,'" he said. "I am in the low 90s if I am on my game. However, both my wife and daughter are better golfers than I am," he added with a smile.

At present his only exercise consists of a morning walk around the school grounds before breakfast. "It is both useful and pleasant. I can watch the progress being made on the buildings, and I allow the beauty of this place to sink in deep."

LA CAUSERIE FRANCAISE MEETS TONIGHT

Once more the members and friends of La Causerie Francaise are invited to attend and enjoy a most interesting evening at the regular monthly meeting of the French-speaking society to be held at 8 o'clock tonight, February 22, in the Carmel Art Gallery.

To commemorate the anniversary of George Washington's birth, Mr. Abel Warshawsky and Colonel Worthington Holiday will read letters written by the great American's French partisans.

Also on the program will be a concert of French music prepared by Dr. Harvey Marshall of Monterey Peninsula College. Musicians Ronald Greulich, clarinetist, and Angie Machado, pianist, will play two compositions: "Sonatine" by Darius Milhaud and "Arabesques" by Claude Debussy. Mrs. Fritz Wurmman will provide an explanatory introduction to the musical selections.

Highlight of the evening will be a lecture, "The French Heritage in South America," by Mrs. F. Threadgill (Olga Briceno), noted author and former cultural attache of the Venezuelan embassy in Washington. Mrs. Threadgill is the author of a series of historical novels on Bolivar, Miranda, and Cervantes, written in Spanish. She has also published in this country the well known "Cocks and Bulls in Caracas," "The Cockpit," and "Uptown Express." In addition she has contributed articles to the Inter-American and the Readers Digest.

The distinguished speaker holds among other honors the coveted "Order of Isabel La Catolica," one of Spain's highest decorations, together with the "Palme" of the French Academy. She has lectured widely in Europe, North Africa, and South America.

EIGHT to the BAR

By ROSS WORSLEY

It is always good news when we hear from Lotte Lehmann on discs. One of the greatest thrills to date for her fans is the second volume of early Lehmann performances issued on a 12" L.P. by Decca which includes arias and scenes from Die Fledermaus, Le Nozze di Figaro, Der Freischutz, Arabella, and Der Rosenkavalier. Madame Lehmann, in the ensemble recordings, is assisted by Richard Tauber, Karin Branzell, Grete Merrem-Nikisch, and Waldemar Staegemann. All the illumined eloquence, the impulsiveness and warmth of her art are projected abundantly in this handsome collection.

One of the two last and uncompleted works of Bela Bartok is the Viola concerto commissioned by William Primrose. Tibor Serly, American composer-conductor, prepared the work for publication, and since the world premier on December 2, 1949, the viola concerto has been widely performed. Bartok Records offer a brilliant performance with William Primrose and the New Symphony Orchestra of London conducted by Tibor Serly.

Ninon Vallin, one of the great names in European Opera Houses, whose lyrico-dramatic soprano voice encompassed more than a score of operatic roles, was also noted as an exponent of the French art song. Decca presents a 12" L.P. disc of Ninon Vallin in arias from Manon, Herodiade, and Werther, with orchestral accompaniments. Madame Vallin is incapable of a false move artistically, and the lovely quality of her voice has been ably captured on this well engineered recording.

Mozart's Piano Concerto no. 25 in C Major is performed on Decca by Carl Seeman, a pianist with technical clarity, but who lacks the virility, poise, and innigkeit demanded of a work that was a summit of achievement in the maturity of Mozart's most illumined period. Better listen to the Gaby Casadesus reading on Vox, accompanied by the Lamoureux orchestra.

Starting March 21, pay telephones on the Peninsula will catch up with the inflationary trend and cost 10 cents. But at the same time the 3 per cent surcharge on private phone bills will go off.

D. D. Muir, local manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., noted that the change-over comes three months ahead of schedule. The company was granted until June 30 to make the change.

Most of the mechanical changes in the phone boxes have already been made, Muir said. At midnight that night the final adaption will be made by fast moving crews. There are about 400 pay telephones on the Peninsula.

ALL SAINTS' EPISCOPAL

This coming Sunday at 5 p.m., Robert M. Forbes will give a short organ recital in All Saints' Episcopal Church, Carmel. With this recital as a beginning, an organ recital on the last Sunday afternoon of every month will become a regular part of the Church's program. These recitals are for all in the community who care to come.

Forbes, organist of All Saints', is well known on the Peninsula as a fine pianist and organist. Among the selections he will play this Sunday will be: "Ricercare" by Palestrina; chorale, "Sleepers, Wake, A Voice is Calling" by J. S. Bach; "Evensong" by Schumann Schreiner; "Sketch in F minor" by Schumann; from the Antiphons by Marcel Dupre, "How Fair and Pleasant Art Thou;" "I am Black but Comely, O Ye Daughters of Jerusalem," and "Thanksgiving" (from four prayers in tone) by R. Purvis. The Season of Lent begins.

..The Amateur Gardener..

By Charles W. Delaney

February is a busy month in the garden. Planning for the future is very essential. Take advantage of the moist soil after the late rains, spread on a layer of manure and spade it under, breaking up all lumps and clods so that the soil is very loose and friable; rake it out and permit the sun to warm it up. Heavy adobe soil may need some vermiculite, gypsum or limestone shale; never add sand; it is of no value. Sandy soil needs plenty of manure or compost.

For Spring and Summer blooms plant the following: Calendulas, Tetra Snapdragons, Imperial base branching Stocks, giant carnations, Cinerarias Stellata (the giant type is so hard to grow on account of pests), Scabiosas, California Strain Delphiniums, Giant Pansies, Violas, and Chrysanthemums. These plants are available at your nursery. It is too late to plant the seeds for early blooming. In a later article I shall describe planting of seeds.

AN INFORMAL GARDEN

The informal garden is the type of choice for this area, a formal garden requires much more work to keep up its rigid appearance.

Never, never set out plants in straight lines. A straight line is never seen in Nature, only man makes straight lines. The most uninteresting garden is where flowers grow in rows like a field of corn. The idea is to create bouquets dispersed all through the planted area. Set out the plants in groups and in irregular patterns, the taller growing ones toward the rear as a background and the lower in the foreground.

A background of shrubbery such as pyracantha, cotoneaster, coprosma, and evergreens give a feeling of support and stability. In semishaded areas, a half circle of tall sword ferns with cinerarias in front, then buried pots of tuberous begonias, create a beautiful effect. Begonias thrive in pot culture; they are easier to water and fertilize, and in addition, they may be shifted about for better effect.

PANSIES, BEGONIAS, FUSCHIAS

I have had excellent results growing pansies in pots, especially the giant flowered variety. The potting mixture is one-third each good garden loam, well rotted cow manure, and sand; then I sprinkle in some bone-meal.

My tuberous begonias are showing pink and white eyes, which means they are ready to start growing. Yesterday I set them in flats with equal parts of leaf mold and peat-moss. The bulbs should be set just so the tops are above the soil level. If the bulbs are covered they may rot. The flats will be kept damp; but never wet until the shoots are two to three inches tall. After that they may be planted into their permanent place or in pots.

Fuschias grown in pots or boxes should be lifted, shaking off the dirt. Then trim off the long strand of roots about one-third and re-pot, using one-third sandy leaf-mold, one-third peat-moss, and one-third well rotted cow manure, and a handful of bone-meal. The bush variety should be pruned back to eight inches from the base and the hanging basket type cut off even with the base of the container. Fuschias require much water during the growing season. Every three or four weeks I give them a tablespoonful of fish emulsion to a gallon of water. I use this same solution for begonias and other potted plants.

CLEANING AND SPRAYING

This is a good time to give the garden a general clean-up--litter, fallen leaves, and old plants harbor insect pests. Leaves and grass may be put on a compost pile, buried or burned. A compost pile is very valuable in a garden; it returns to the soil what the plants have consumed.

If you have a flowering peach or japonica it will probably have curly-leaf, which is a fungus. Spray the tree when the leaves are entirely off (the tree is then dormant, using $5\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoonfuls of Orthorix and $5\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoonfuls Volcks Oil to a gallon of water. Drench the tree and the ground about the base thoroughly. Two or three treatments, a week apart, will cure the trouble. The same mixture should be used on all roses to prevent mildew, rust, and black spots. It is a preventive treatment.

Remember you are gardening for health and happiness. Enjoy the sun with its warmth, the fresh air, and get the proper amount of exercise. If the muscles become sore and tired take a hot bath and rest. I will see you again next week.

ARMY DAUGHTERS CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL ELECTION

Annual election of officers was held last week at the monthly meeting of the Daughters of the U.S. Army. The meeting was in the Officers Mess at Fort Ord.

Miss Carole Chester is the new president; Mrs. Walter F. Winton, vice-president; Miss Pat McDonald, treasurer, and Miss Robin Robinson, secretary.

The new officers were congratulated by the former president, Mrs. Luisa Hovden; Miss Emily Brown, former secretary, and Mrs. George D. Wahl, outgoing treasurer.

COMPLEAT ANGLERS TAKE NOTICE

From May 3 to June 29 the Monterey Salmon and Deep Sea Fishing Derby will be on. With contestants out for both amateur and commercial fishing prizes the Peninsula waters should be whipped to a froth, and fish dinners plentiful hereabouts.

Co-chairmen of the event are Wendell Wheaton and Ellis Berry, and the contest is sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Sportsman's Convention. They have planned 110 prizes... some to be awarded weekly and others as grand prizes.

Rules of the Fish and Game Commission will apply, as well as their specifications as to tackle weight, size, and kind.

Prize winning fish for Sports Anglers are salmon, ling cod, halibut, cabazone, red rockcod, blue shark, black cod, yellow tail cod, eel, and octopus. Commercial fish included are salmon and ling cod.

Gas and electricity are cheap in California!

For nearly half a century, Bells Memorial Tower has been a familiar landmark in downtown Bakersfield

P. G. and E. home rates are far below U.S. average!

The cost of living has nearly doubled since 1940, but P. G. and E. domestic rates are actually lower than they were then! Nothing else you buy costs so little—does so much. Let

P. G. and E.'s bargain gas and electricity do more of your work, bring you more of life's comforts.

Take BAKERSFIELD for example:

Typical residential gas and electric bill

In Bakersfield $8.50

In all U.S. cities of similar size $15.97

* Average for the 21 U.S. cities outside California between 33,000 and 35,000 population. Based on a typical use of 100 kilowatt hours and 100 therms of gas per month.
